

Easily Provide Support Through Your Will

One of the most popular and easiest ways to support the good work of our community is to remember our congregation in your will. Although the legacies you typically read about in the papers are grand in scope, most people who leave assets to charitable organizations through their wills are of modest means. Here are some future and ongoing needs that your donation could support:

- Expand and enhance programs or initiatives in your congregation;
- Continue to maintain or build facilities;
- Ensure the future of your religious community.

Completing Your Gift

So how do you remember us in your will? While planning or updating your will, simply tell your attorney that you want to leave something for our congregation. A common practice when including a bequest in your estate is to leave a percentage, rather than a fixed amount, to us. That way, your bequest to the congregation remains in proportion to other bequests.

A Gift for Future Generations...

Whether you are writing your first will or updating an existing one, we hope you'll include a gift to the Marquette Unitarian Universalist Congregation. In a world where hate and oppression make claim to religious truth, MqtUU offers love, democracy, and compassionate justice. A bequest will bring you joy and will strengthen and extend your faith.

You don't have to be a millionaire to make a difference in the world. Regardless of the amount, your bequest is a statement of faith. Faith that our Unitarian Universalist movement and its voice for compassionate justice and religious freedom are important now—and will be important long after we are gone. When you demonstrate that you care enough about Unitarian Universalism to support its future, others will follow your generous example.

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE.

Without much effort, you can make a long-lasting impact on the future of Unitarian Universalism. In addition to its simplicity, a bequest to support the MqtUU will allow you to have an impact on the future of this congregation.

An unrestricted direct bequest in your will or trust of a specific sum of money, a percentage of your estate or a particular asset will help to ensure a secure future for the Marquette Unitarian Universalist Congregation.
